Daily Thought.

"Do your best and then stop worrying."

The fire in an outhouse in the rear of Broadway between Second and Third streets, which, while of little consequence so far as actual loss was concerned, jeopardized the business section for a few minutes early this morning, points to a menace, which Paducah would do well to get rid of. It seems strange that business men, who take the precaution to keep their property well insured, will erect these little frame fire traps in the rear of their premises, simply to save a few dollars immediate expense. But such is human nature and we adopt laws to protect us against our own short-sightedness. From Fourth street to the river the rear of Broadway on both sides represents every opportunity for a disastrous fire. We have a fire limit ordinance, which will prevent the erection of any more of these shacks, but those now in existence should be torn down. They subserve no useful purpose, nor are they ornamental. Only the rats would be disturbed by their destruction.

The Commercial club has announced the Jackson's Purchase Immigration convention to meet in Paducah October 4-5. Secretary Coons has been in communication with representative citizens in neighboring counties, and has secured replies, which indicate enough interest in the project to warrant the club in proceeding with the arrangements. This promises to be one of the most important gatherings in Western Kentucky, and Paducah should extend to the visitors not only the utmost hospitality on that occasion, but should evince such enthusiasm in the immigration movement as to send the delegates home with irresistible arguments in favor of the plans adopted by the convention. It is time for everybody to study the immigration question in its application to local conditions.

A substantial bridge over Island creek to Mechanicsburg; the rehabilitation of the municipal lighting plant at a cost far below the original estimate; seven miles extension of the sewerage system; the adoption of measures enabling the people to acquire a park system at an early date; and a substantial reduction in the tax rate—all without a breath of scandal, or honest, adverse criticism—coupled with the closest scrutiny of every item of public business that came before the body, will form a pretty compactly built platform for the members of the present general council to stand on before the people at the next election. "Pointing with pride" is always a stronger argument at an election than "viewing with alarm."

The school board will meet tomorrow.

POSITIVELY BRUTAL.

Mrs. Justwed: "I'm going to make a beautiful cake, dear. I do wish you could bring some one home with you to dinner."
Mr. Justwed: "All right, dear. I'll stop at the circus and invite the iron jawed man."

row night. There is still before the board the matter of electing teachers. The whole corps is being held up by a deadlock over one position. The citizens of Paducah, who are interested in the welfare of the children, are watching the board. It is time to "get together gentlemen." More momentous questions than the election of one school teacher have been settled harmoniously by more imposing bodies than the Paducah school board, and more difficult problems will confront public bodies in the future. We have no inclination to criticize any trustee, who stands up for what he considers the best interests of the schools; but just now we believe that the best interests of the schools will be subserved by the settlement of this disputed question one way or the other, and that without delay.

In cities the size of Paducah and larger, weeds in vacant lots are not allowed to stand very long and the owners of the property are made to have them cut down. They are unhealthy and the boards of health have so decided, says the Mayfield Messenger.

In one sense it is true, "weeds are not allowed to stand," just as men are not allowed to "tote pistols" in Kentucky. It is unlawful for weeds to stand and for men to "tote pistols"; but weeds do stand and men do "tote pistols."

"Who will run against Bryan?" ask the journals, that make a business of "moulding public opinion" in a thousand fanciful forms on every question that remotely resembles an issue; and their insistent query is answered by the statesmen, who have to keep talking to avoid being forgotten. The election is two years away. Bryan may not run. But if he does, we feel safe in predicting that somebody will oppose him.

Asbury Spicer who testified against the Hargis-Callahan gang in the trials for the assassination of Attorney Marcum, was ambushed and fired upon in the mountains. If he remains in the mountain country and gets killed, the coroner's jury will be logically justified in returning a verdict of suicide.

The British admiralty has decided to encourage cigarette smoking in the navy. Perhaps, the admiralty intends to employ cigarettes in naval engagements much as lyddite shells were used in smoking out the enemy in South Africa.

IN THE COURTS

Not a Public Highway.
County Judge R. T. Lightfoot this morning decided that the county must accept a road dedication before it may be rightfully termed a public road, and with this decision dismissed the case of the commonwealth against Joe Trimble, of the county, charged with obstructing the public highway.

This case has been up for some time and was taken from the lower courts to the county court. Trimble was accused of closing a road with a fence. He showed that the road was built and maintained by himself for several years and that the county had never accepted the dedication.

Bankruptcy Court.
This morning the first meeting of creditors in the bankrupt matter of William E. Killough, of Paducah, was held, but no creditors appeared and no trustee was appointed. Referee Bagby allowed the exemptions prayed for in the petition. He exempts a few household effects.

Other Judgments.
Besides this one judgment County Judge R. T. Lightfoot took up about 140 other cases, civil actions on the quarterly court docket and disposed of a number of them. At least 50 judgments were rendered.

A Correction.
In The Sun's court items Saturday mention was made of a suit against the Starks-Ulman company for $3,120, which was an error. The suit is for $313.

Marriage Licenses.
Bud Wyatt, city, 21, to Lola Gray, city, 18. Ernest Nelms, city, 22, to Lee Jacobs, city, 21.

Court Notes.
Miss Irene Fowler has accepted a position in the office of County Judge R. T. Lightfoot.

John Perdew, owning a farm four miles out on the Illinois Central, filed suit today against the Illinois Central road for $600 damages. He claims that the road filled its roadbed in such a way as to cause bad drainage on his farm, and that water backing up on his timber ruined it.

Hot Days Beneficial.
It is strange we never stop to realize that the hot days are good for us. They are tho', just as they are good for crops. Nature sends the hot days to give us a good "sweating"—if the use of the vulgar word is permissible for in this way it eliminates some of the poisons from our systems. If we would get out of doors, instead of sitting in the shady nooks, and take two or three hours in the open air with the "boiling sun" boiling us right we would feel lots better, and be lots better.

This is a correct theory, and is the theory that prompted the invention of the hot-air treatments I am giving with such success in my practice. When used in connection with Osteopathy it is a specific for the ailments that give us Paducahans the most trouble, malaria, chills and fever and biliousness, and I can in just a few minutes show anyone suffering of these ailments why they yield so readily to the treatment. I can refer you to people you know who will attest to my statements.

If you feel drowsy, and tired; feel like you had a taut band around your head which was being drawn closer all the time; if you are suffering of indigestion or any form, a course of Osteopathic and dry hot-air treatments will bring a quick cure, and do so without the aid of anything but aids to Nature.

Return to Police Court.Druggists Fined on Charge of Sunday
Selling—Green Goods
Cases Are Continued.

HUNCHBACK IS HEAVILY FINED

Police Judge E. H. Puryear held a lengthy session of police court this morning and had his first "second appearance" case to decide.

Will Hornsby, Arch Bland and Warren Hill, colored, were charged with being drunk and disorderly. They admitted being drunk and when Hornsby was sent to the stand Judge Puryear asked him if he had not been there before.

"Yas sah," he admitted, grinning from ear to ear.

"What were you here for?" the court inquired.

"Fo' slappin' a niggah woman."

"Did you slap her?"

"Reckon I did sah; you fined me fo' hit."

"This is the second time you have been before me, and I warned you not to come back. Fifty dollars and costs against you."

Bland had been up before and was given the same dose but as it was Hill's first offense, and he seemed to have fallen into bad company, the court dismissed him.

His Satanic Majesty Fined.

Rollie Head, the four foot dwarf who claims Nashville his home and who declared to Special Policeman Patillo Kirk, of the Illinois Central force, when arrested that he was the Devil and came from where they "burn 'em" was fined $25 and costs in police court this morning for disorderly conduct. Head claimed that he was weak and half-starved and was given extra rations at the city jail. He carried with him a bottle of chloroform with a nipple on the end. He stated he did this to "keep himself up."

Sunday Violation Cases.

James P. Sleeth, Roy S. Ballowe, Charles O. Ripley, L. H. and Phil Stephon, druggists, were each fined $25 and costs for selling liquor on the Sabbath. The case was tried Saturday but the opinion of the court held up pending his investigation of the statutes. Judge Puryear wanted to see if he could legally hold the proprietor for the act of his clerk. It is understood that two of the defendants will appeal.

House-Breaker Waives Examination.

Will Tucker, colored, was presented for house-breaking. He was accused of entering the residence of Mr. C. H. Chamblin and stealing a pistol and coat and was caught later with the goods on him. He waived examination and was held over.

Green Goods Cases Go Over.

The case against Thomas Warren and Thomas Franklin for the alleged swindling of Frank and Lafayette Robinson out of $470 went over again on account of the absence of witnesses.

Other cases: Henry Hardy, colored, drunk and disorderly, $50 and costs; W. C. Reynolds, carrying a pistol and brass knuckles, $25 and costs and ten days in jail; Drew Starrett and Bob Jenkins, breach of peace, continued; Dee Jackson, breach of peace, continued; Tully Livery company, breach of ordinance, left open; Frank Blanchard, petty larceny, continued.

PLEASANT PARTY.

Twenty-five Enjoy Hospitality of Mr. J. R. Thompson.

Mr. J. R. Thompson, of the county, entertained twenty-five friends at dinner at his pleasant country home yesterday. Included in the party were County Judge Lightfoot and Bert Johnson, county road supervisor. Barbecued meat and all the delicacies of the season were served to the guests, and the afternoon was idled away in the shade.

Throws Over Cargo.

New Orleans, August 6.—The breakdown at sea of the Norwegian steamship Venus, bound from Boca del Toro, Panama, to New Orleans, was reported today when the steamer Preston arrived. The Venus' boilers began to leak, and after having drifted at sea for 36 hours, she threw overboard her banana cargo and made Port Limon under temporary repairs.

Fall River Boat Disabled.

New London, Conn., Aug. 6.—The Fall River Line steamer Puritan from New York to Fall River broke her shaft off Gull Island early this morning and whistled for assistance. She was towed in here and the passengers taken aboard a special train to their destination.

JOY OF SALVATION
TOPIC OF SERMONRev. B. P. Fullerton Preaches to Presbyterians.Presiding Elder Fills Pulpit at the Broadway Methodist Church at Both Services.

REVIVAL COMES TO A CLOSE.

"The Joy of Salvation" was the theme of the discourse delivered yesterday morning by the Rev. B. P. Fullerton, of St. Louis, at the Presbyterian church, Sixth street and Kentucky avenue. The Rev. Mr. Fullerton, who is field secretary of the Presbyterian board of home missions, for the district formerly covered by the Cumberland church, is a pleasing speaker of sympathetic presence and he presents the gospel in a way that makes it a living, attractive force. His special plea was for Christians to live their religion; to be happy in it; to seek the "Joy of Salvation." His message was one of optimism, and his truths were irresistible. The Rev. B. P. Fullerton is one of the best preachers heard in Paducah in a long time.

After the morning service the minister held a fifteen minute conference with the members of the church, concerning a pastor for this charge. At night he spoke on the union of the Cumberland and the General Presbyterian church, which the organization in Paducah has decided to join.

Presiding Elder Preaches.

Presiding Elder J. W. Blackard conducted the services at the Broadway Methodist church yesterday in the absence of the pastor, the Rev. T. J. Newell, who is out of the city, visiting Methodist colleges of the Memphis conference. The topic of his morning discourse was "A visitor of God," and of his evening sermon, "Gathering Up the Fragments." Large congregations were present at each service. Communion was held after the morning sermon.

Seeking New Pastor.

The committee appointed by the officers of the First Christian church have not selected any pastor as yet although they are corresponding with several. Regular services have not been held at this church since the pastor, the Rev. W. H. Pinkerton, resigned several months ago. A regular pastor will probably be seen in the pulpit soon, however, as the committee has been instructed to call a pastor at once.

Communion Service.

Services were conducted at the Trimble street Methodist church yesterday morning and evening, by the pastor the Rev. W. W. Armstrong. At the morning service communion was observed. In the evening the sermon was on "Church and Money." Despite the warm day large congregations were present.

TO KILL EMMANUEL

It Is Believed This Anarchist Was Going to Italy.

New York, August 6.—A grip sack loaded with dynamite and 42-calibre cartridges constituted the baggage of Gracemo Tanalare, who had engaged passage on the Cretic, which sailed today from Hoboken to Genoa. Tanalare was not allowed to sail and the Hoboken police are of the opinion that he is an anarchist that contemplated the assassination of the King of Italy.

JUST UNDER AGE.

But in Few Weeks Luby Washington Must Behave Himself.

A family bible was the star witness in the case against Luby Washington, colored, this morning, and its testimony alone secured a dismissal in police court of the boy, who was charged with being an idler and disorderly. Policeman Aaron Hurley arrested Washington because he sat by a grocery too often talking and loitering about. The father testified that the boy was not 16 years old. The family Bible was produced and proved it. It will be only a few weeks before he will be old enough to be prosecuted in the police court and Judge Puryear gave him ample warning.
